

The path to success as a female leader often presents unique challenges and pressures. Balancing high performance with authentic leadership can sometimes seem daunting. At GLASSBRKR, we understand firsthand these complexities because we've been there ourselves. That's why we've created the Limitless Leaders Cohort. Designed for ambitious women like yourself, our program offers a powerful combination of a supportive community, expert coaching, and shared learning experiences. We're committed to helping you shatter limitations, as you craft innovative strategies that drive both personal and organizational growth.

How It Works

Collaborative
Community

Remote Shared
Learning

Quarterly
1:1 Sessions

Unlimited
Support

Success
Toolkit

Who It's For

- Female executives aiming to accelerate their careers to unlock their full potential
- High potential women who are being invested in as top talent
- Emerging leaders who are stepping into leadership roles for the first time and would value the shared experiences, challenges, and insights of peers in similar situations.
- Women working in male-dominated industries who could benefit from the solidarity and shared experiences in a group of women leaders.
- Women who are changing career paths, moving industries, or returning to work after a break, who could benefit from the collective wisdom and support of a group.
- Female entrepreneurs who are running their own businesses and may not have a large team or many fellow executives to bounce ideas off or learn from.

Elevating Achievements. Shattering Limitations.

What's Included

- A fantastic network of like-minded women
- Weekly small group coaching sessions
- Recordings will be provided for participants who can't attend live
- Creation of a personalized Individual Development Plan
- Quarterly 1:1 coaching sessions with a seasoned executive coach
- Unlimited support via email & text
- Action item tracker to ensure accountability and measure progress
- Access to a comprehensive Success Toolkit and a curated library of leadership development resources
- Complete confidentiality and adherence to International Coach Federation Ethics
- Evergreen content—join anytime!

Topics We'll Cover

- Leading through influence
- Overcoming imposter syndrome
- Prioritizing workload for optimal performance
- Blindspot identification
- Managing up
- Succeeding without burning out
- Controlling your career destiny
- Resolving conflict with minimal damage
- Developing your team to maximize results
- Cross functional collaboration to advance ideas
- Building resilient leadership
- Mastering effective communication
- Leveraging emotional intelligence
- And more!

Some of the Benefits You'll Receive

FOR PARTICIPANTS

- The tools, insights, and support needed to unlock your full potential
- Enhanced self-awareness and confidence
- Identification of blind spots
- The opportunity to learn from and network with a diverse group of high-potential women leaders
- A sounding board to hone new ideas for growing your business, your team, and yourself
- A “fresh set of eyes” on your challenges
- Career advancement and acceleration
- Accountability to achieve your goals
- The confidence that comes from having expert guidance

FOR EMPLOYERS

- Accelerated talent development
- Improved performance and business results
- Increased employee retention
- Expanded capacity
- Enhanced diversity, equity, inclusion & belonging
- An engaged and motivated team
- Increased leadership pipeline diversity

Consistency is Key

It's important to understand developing as a professional takes time. In our experience, clients achieve their developmental goals within 12-18 months, though many continue to receive significant benefit and choose to remain with the program longer. The minimum package is 6 months.

What Our Clients Say

G

Jeni is extraordinarily impactful to our business and very rewarding to work with.

The grace in which Jeni partners with me to not only work through challenges, but also teach me her process is truly remarkable.

Jeni has made a tremendous impact on my executive development, providing me with the reassurances that I have needed along the way to feel confident in my approach.

Jeni's breadth of business knowledge makes her an invaluable resource. There is seemingly no problem she hasn't dealt with in her impressive career.

I am profoundly grateful for the partnership that I have with Jeni.

About GLASSBRKR

GLASSBRKR empowers high-potential women to achieve remarkable growth and maximize their potential. Our mission is to accelerate your journey towards success as a female executive by leveraging our extensive expertise gained through real-world experiences.

For ambitious professional women, we offer a unique coaching experience that serves as your trusted guide, helping you cultivate innovative strategies to drive growth for both your organization and yourself. By partnering with GLASSBRKR, you benefit from personalized coaching tailored to your specific needs and goals, gaining insights and guidance from a seasoned executive who understands the challenges you face.

At GLASSBRKR, we provide the expertise of a seasoned advisor and the unwavering support of a mentor, instilling the confidence needed to thrive in your role.

About Jeni Golomb

Jeni Golomb is a powerhouse executive with more than two decades of proven leadership experience. With a results-driven approach, she has garnered multiple awards and accolades, establishing herself as a trailblazer in the industry. As the founder of GLASSBRKR, Jeni's mission is to help women get to and succeed in the C-suite, leveraging her entrepreneurial spirit and passion for people development.

Her executive leadership roles include serving as the Chief Marketing Officer at Daisy Brand and Senior Vice President of North America Marketing at Sodexo. With a remarkable portfolio, she has led iconic brands such as Altoids, Slim Jim, Huggies (and more), showcasing her expertise in crafting effective marketing strategies and creating unforgettable consumer experiences.

Jeni holds a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Michigan and an MBA from the prestigious Harvard Business School, reflecting her dedication to both technical and business disciplines.

Outside of the office, Jeni can be found indulging in her passions for travel and wine. She also enjoys cheering on her 2 teenage sons at their track meets, where they consistently make her a proud mama.

GLASSBRKR

Elevating Achievements. Shattering Limitations.